Leading with Impact - Beyond ESG

Matt Perfect, Impact Spender

With 2030 looming, Procurement can't de-risk our way to victory with ESG and Sustainability. Matt will set the scene for the day and throw down the gauntlet, challenging ourselves and each other to "Procure with Purpose".

Partnering for Impact

Estelle Lewis, Group EGM, Strategic Partners, IKON Services Australia

With so much to do and so little time (and resources!), partnerships have never been more important. Hear why one of Australia's leading facilities management providers has put people, planet and partnerships at the heart of their vision.

Social and Indigenous Procurement - Beyond Supplier Diversity

Loes Westerbeek, Social Sustainability Manager, Ventia, Matthew Plichta, Local and Sustainable Procurement Manager, Rio Tinto, Tara Anderson, CEO, Social Traders

Rising levels of inequality and social fragmentation are economic problems as much as they are social issues. We'll hear from the changemakers who are leading the way in building more inclusive supply chains.

Advocating for Impact

Tania Seary, Founder, The Faculty, Procurious and The Source

For the Procurement profession to fully embrace the impact we can have on the way business is conducted around the world, we need advocates. Tania will share why she is passionate about helping women in procurement to advance in their careers and shape a better future for all of us.

Combatting Modern Slavery - Beyond Compliance

Sebastian Conley, Sustainable Procurement Manager, Transurban, Rhiannon Jones, Director of Procurement, Sustainability & Property Services, Swinburne University of Technology

Five years on from the Australian Modern Slavery Act and with a growing 50M people trapped in slavery around the world, are we doing enough? We'll hear from procurement leaders who are engaging with the Federal Government and the Modern Slavery Act Review and chairing a sector-wide collaboration to address modern slavery in university supply chains.

AFTERNOON SESSION

Action on Climate - Beyond Reporting

Birgitte Snelson, Procurement Director, Greening Australia, Anna Hancock, Executive Director, Pollination, Inga von Fircks, Partner, Partners In Performance

As regulators and investors pay more attention to Scope 3 emissions, how can Procurement rise above the 'analysis paralysis' and work with suppliers and not for profits to take meaningful action on climate? We'll hear from current and former procurement executives, using their skills and experience for good in the journey to net zero.

Influencing for Impact - Roundtable CPO Showcase

As we close the day, participants will have exclusive access to members of The Faculty Roundtable in a rare opportunity to share the most compelling insights and ideas and make the case for IMPACT!

Transition to Circular Economy - Beyond Waste

Craig Reucassel, Writer, Comedian, Host of ABC TV's War on Waste

The "take-make-waste" linear system of economic production is no longer fit for purpose, and Procurement has a formidable vantage point from which to rethink our influence on responsible production and consumption. With his cheeky satire that entertains and informs, Craig will help us to round out the day and reflect on how far we have come but how much more we have yet to do.
